Since 1986, Times Group has developed, designed, and constructed over 50 residential communities in the Greater Toronto Area. In recognition of this achievement, Times Group has become one of the most trusted and respected real estate development firms in Ontario. Times Group takes pride in its portfolio of both residential and commercial projects and its reputation for completing its projects as promised and on time.

Over the years, Times Group has become a vertically integrated development, construction, and property management organization. This growth has allowed Times Group to directly oversee every project and ensure high standards are upheld from design development through to construction and interior finishing. The company is well-known for its use of finishes that are substantially superior to its industry peers. As a privately held, multi-generational real estate firm, Times Group is committed to quality, attention to detail, and exceptional customer service.

Based in Toronto, Icke Brochu Architects have successfully executed design projects at various scales from single-family residential homes to complex mixed-use developments throughout the Greater Toronto Area. Founded and led by its two principal architects Paul Icke and Andre Brochu, the firm has over 75 years of combined architectural experience and has worked with established firms within the greater Toronto area and York Region. The firm's team represents a collaboration of experienced architectural professionals with a strong residential portfolio of work, focusing on both mixed-use and multi-family residential developments.

STUDIO TLA is a Toronto-based Master Planning, Urban Design and Landscape Architecture firm. Established in 1980, the firm's team of 35-plus design professionals is focused on multi-scale landscape infrastructures and the interface between architecture and open space, creating meaningful environments for mixed-use and residential projects, parks, streetscapes and civic spaces. Working closely with allied disciplines, STUDIO tla is guided by a deep understanding of social, cultural, economic, political, and environmental factors relevant to each site. The firm is driven to create landscapes that are unique in their vision and representative of their context, technically excellent, and detailed with innovative methods and materiality.
